THE NUMBING DISTRACTIONS OF MATERIAL POSSESSIONS

GIOVANNI METRO STOP GALLERY

WWWG PRODUCTIONS LTD. SINGAPORE - 2025

Time begins to unravel, and everything gradually diminishes, serving as a veil that conceals the pain confined within this fragile existence.
This suffering is bound by the limitations of my exhausted and threadbare thoughts, vividly illustrated by the plight of suffering children and the numbing distractions of material possessions that impair my remaining cognitive faculties.

You smirk from the other side of the iron cage, observing our suffering while dismissing our desperate calls to dismantle this barrier and enable us to save the world.
I can almost hear your mother admonishing you to mature, urging you to heed her wise counsel and recognize that individuals like me are perceived as irreparably flawed, mere vocal critics who would falter in any attempt to govern, even if fate were to intervene.

I would take the opportunity to enlighten her that the world is already profoundly fractured, and according to my sources, it seems that even God has abandoned us, departing on a late-night freight train.

A notorious figure was observed near the desolate train tracks in the desert, singing a peculiar tune from the infamous film "Women in Chains."

The apprehensive residents of the nearby town warned me against approaching him, describing him as a drifter stripped of everything except for his long sword and a concealed knife tucked away in his boot.

As I stood waiting for the noon train, I found myself observing him out of sheer boredom.

Suddenly, he called out "Famous Last Words!" to no one in particular on the opposite side of the tracks, unless there was someone hidden around the corner that I couldn't see from my vantage point.
It is important to clarify the situation, Ajaib.

I distinctly remember his adamant denial of the statement, despite what the Rolling Stones reported.
I may be a minor player in this vast arena, surrounded by influential figures whose opinions often seem borrowed rather than original, as evidenced by your reference to that elitist publication, Rolling Stone.
Allow me to interject with my own perspective:

“Goodnight!”
At the crossroads, a group of fallen angels awaited the return of the newly crowned king of Spanish Morocco from his exile.
As they stood there, they tapped their toes in impatience, and I overheard some murmuring about the fallibility of even divine beings, referencing the oversight of the Multiverse travel warning regarding the water.

It is perhaps best not to dwell on the consequences of that particular oversight. I find myself clinging to the hope that there exists a larger, hidden plan that has eluded my understanding, one that could guide us through this challenging era. It raises the question of whether this is merely a sense of déjà vu or if we have indeed traversed this path before, standing with the Lord of Karma and accompanied by my rather unremarkable, low-rent, guardian angel, freshly arrived from Tulsa on the Greyhound Bus.

It appears that they have convened to softly sing the refrain of an ancient maritime ballad, recounting a pirate's insatiable thirst for adventure sparked by the sudden appearance of a new star during a midnight vigil.
The past continually seeps into my present,
